RE: RFP NO. 2503-16-28
"Surveying Services for Coastal Protection and Restoration Authority Projects"

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

1. Q. If you have an existing survey contract, could we submit as a prime on this one?
A. A firm holding a current Professional Services contract with the agency may submit on any of the advertised RSIQ's, however a firm may hold only one Professional Services contract with the agency for contracts with similar scope items. In this instance, the firm's existing contract would be cancelled prior to issuing the new contract
2. Q. Is a firm able to submit as a prime for more than 1 contract?
A. Yes, a firm may submit as a prime on each individual RSIQ.
3. Q. Is a firm able to submit as a prime on 1 contract and as a sub on another contract?
A. Yes
4. Q. The last sentence in the third paragraph, "Please note, firms who are prime contractors on existing contracts with CPRA will be allowed to submit as subcontractors on this advertisement." Does a CONTRACT FOR PROFESSIONAL SERVICES – Engineering Services for Coastal Restoration Projects preclude us from submitting on RSIQ No 2503-16-28 "Surveying Services for Coastal Protection and Restoration Authority Projects"?
A. No, a firm is not precluded from submitting.
Q. Does this scenario preclude us from submitting on RSIQ No 2503-16-24 "Coastal Engineering Services for Coastal Protection and Restoration Authority Projects"?
A. No, a firm is not precluded from submitting; however a firm may hold only one Professional Services contract with the agency for contracts with similar scope items. In this instance, the firm's existing contract would be cancelled prior to issuing the new contract.
5. Q. Does each subconsultant need to supply a completed 24-102 or does the prime submit a combined 24-102 for the team?
A. Separate CPRA SF24-102 forms are required for the prime consultant and each subconsultant.

6. Q. What is required from subcontractors for the submittal? Are they required to fill out a full/ signed CPRA 24-102 form, or do they just need to send resumes and projects that will be blended/ inserted into the Prime's form?
- A. Separate CPRA SF24-102 forms are required for the prime consultant and each subconsultant.
7. Q. Are sub consultants required to submit a completed 24-102 form along with the Prime consultant ?
- A. Separate CPRA SF24-102 forms are required for the prime consultant and each subconsultant.
8. Q. Can you confirm that the following wording applies solely to each individual RSIQ? Firms electing to submit a proposal as a prime contractor cannot be listed as a subcontractor on another firm's proposal. Firms not submitting as prime contractor are allowed to be listed as a subcontractor on as many proposals as they deem appropriate. Please note, firms who are prime contractors on existing contracts with CPRA will be allowed to submit as subcontractors on this advertisement. For instance, can a prime firm on this contract can submit as a subcontractor under a separate RSIQ?
- A. The language references a single RSIQ. Yes, a firm can submit as a prime on an RSIQ and submit as a subcontractor on a separate RSIQ
9. Q. Should we include a form 24-102 for each sub-consultant in our submittal?
- A. Separate CPRA SF24-102 forms are required for the prime consultant and each subconsultant.
10. Q. Would it be OK to include an additional section at the end of the submittal titled "Additional Information"?
- A. Section 11 of CPRA SF24-102 form allows for additional information.
11. Q. If we currently have an IDIQ Engineering contract in hand – does that prevent us from pursuing, as a prime, any of the contracts that were just advertised? It would seem that since the scopes of services for current IDIQs differ from those outlined in the 2014 request we'd ok to pursue as a prime.
- A. A firm holding a current Professional Services contract with the agency may submit on any of the advertised RSIQ's, however a firm may hold only one Professional Services contract with the agency for contracts with similar scope items. In this instance, the firm's existing contract would be cancelled prior to issuing the new contract.

- A. Yes
13. Q. Is it allowable for a firm that primes one of the RSIQs to be a sub on a different RSIQ (for example: Coastal and General engineering).
